God is good and thanks to him i have been able to identify many things and gain understanding and thanks to Jesus my life is not the same and im grateful for that, i have been able to identify a curse of poverty in my family that it comes from many generations back , i had always wonder why we have been so poor? Why we always lack so many things ? why others lived better and why i had to always want and not have ? today i understand the reasons why and i have asked the Lord to break that curse of poverty and i have learned to give joyfully and faithfully and i have started to experience the blessing. God is good , Glory to God.
