Open doors

Fortunately, there are not any open doors now within my immediate family, however I do see an open door of lukewarmness in other family members such as cousins, aunts, and uncles. I say this because I have family members who do go to church but do not apply what they are hearing/ learning in church to their lives. They still go out, party, drink, and do whatever they please. Some are blinded into believing they are still going to heaven and will be taken in the rapture. I feel that many people struggle with open doors in their lives if not everybody at least once. However, once we recognize that we might have an open door we are too repent and ask God vocally to set us free after vocally repenting for opening a door.
