Right Heart, Right Motive

Week : Devotionals 11-15

Day 14: You Have No Other Option Than...

1) In your journal, write about a time in your life when you took offense at the Word and did not obey. What were the consequences?

- I took offense from someone hurting me and instead of forgiving, I sought to repay them for hurting me. Though God is redeeming my sin for my good and His glory, the consequences were many. I was working a job that was outside of God's will for me and was introduced to people who introduced me to a lifestyle in opposition to Christ Jesus. As a result, I backslid and was further from God than I ever imagined. Since I was a child, I have loved Jesus. However, because of my rebellion my life was full of depression, self-hatred, pride, doubt, despair, and unbelief. In His mercy, kindness, and unfailing love, however, He rescued and forgave me.

2) Have you attempted to build a house on the sandy foundations of this world's system? Notice any of the worldly foundations listed below that you have been tempted to use. Think about the results of using these foundations.
