

Leadership 105* Lesson #7

HW: What now? 266-273

Nicole Bermudez 10/22/20

Our lives as Christians should always be a reflection of our heavenly Father and His Word in every way. Walking in love and forgiveness should be a constant thing for us. We should love others just as Christ loves us, and we should be quick to forgive others just as Christ is quick to forgive us when we repent and ask for forgiveness. Every relationship that Christ has given us, we must not take for granted, but nurture and take care of that relationship with the help of the Holy Spirit. We must never allow those relationships that He has given us to wither, but instead we must actively pursue peace and reconciliation whenever it's needed. Any differences that we may have along the way, we must pray and ask the Holy Spirit for wisdom, knowledge, understanding, and discernment so that we may always make wise and right choices. So, we must always remember that we should take action, keep it private, be sensitive, and seek restoration. God is so faithful, and He will help us in any and every situation.

Thank You, Jesus!!
